the fact cited above is the test by which thousand votes of Democratic Irishmen the Democratic papers weigh the featty of their own organs, they must concede that the frequency with which they quote the New York Times, Springfield Republo an and other Mugwump sheets furnishes ample evidence of the fact that those napers have long since ceased to voice Re-

The Nashville American says: "Some of our northern Republican exchanges affect to think that Mr Sherman left a profound impression and stirred up a great deal of enthusiasm in Tennessee. The fact is that Mr. Sherman barely rippled the political surface and made no great impression even upon his own party. The only time he awakened any enthusiasm was when he mentioned the name of James G. Blaine. Then, indeed, his Republican auditors broke furth into such a thunder storm of applause that it fairly took the old man's breath. He didn't do it again." Supreme Judge. There are gratifying indications, however, that the Southerns are getting ready to kick over the traces

The letter of General Rosser attacking Governor Oglesby, for whom all the Mug-General Sheridan has served the, purpose of showing that Virginia at least is not included in the "new South" of which so much has been said of late. A Virginia study with reference to the practical value new-paper, the Peninsula Enterprise, of the Mugwump vote in 1888.

'This is the same Gen. Sheridan whose barbarous torch spread such wild, and wanton waste and desolution through the valley during the war, laying in ashes the beautiful and happy homes of innocent women, young and helpless children and aged men, and who over the runs boasted that a crow could not fly without carrying Sheridan is no less a brute now than he was during the war, and entitled to no consideration at the hands of any respectable man. That this man should be allowed to make his triumphant ride up the valley in peace, but like a miserable crow carry his own rations with him is the hope expressed by Gen Thomas L. Rosser in a letter recently published, which should be readily concurred in by every self-respecting Virginian." sherldan is no less a brute now than he

(Chicago Tribune, Ma) 77 Mr. Blame's Political Strength.

The St. Paul Proneer-Press was opposed to the nomination of Mr. Blaine in 1881, as was the Munesota delegation, which elung to Windom to the very last. From that time to this the Press has spent its strength in decrying Blaine's availability and in belittling his strength with the people. It once more opposes his candidacy in 1888 upon the ground of his want of popular strength, and declares that "he would not be as strong as he was in 1884." The Chicago Tribune is not at present urging the candidacy of Mr. Blaine or any other Republican, believing it to be premature. If it can be shown that any other cundidate is stronger than Mr. Blaine in the pivotal States the Tribune will be for that candidate, but in the meantime it is a matter open to discussion who the candidate is or where he is who is stronger than Mr. Blaine. That is what Republicans want to know. From this point of view the argument made by the Pioneer Press will not hold water. It was but a short time ago that the Mugwump organs of New York and Massachusetts were usked whether they would support Senator Stierman, Senator A true copy.

In according to the total purpose the ordinance and all water hund remaining to waste will be shat of. and that they should support Cleveland; from which it is apparent that the only way for the Republicans to get back the Mugwamps is to support Cleveland. It is evident that neither of these four strong Republican leaders—and we may add to llst the Press' former candidate, Senstor Windom—can earry the Mugwump vote. Whereln, then, are they any stronger than Mr. Blaine? What element of disaffected Republicans can any one of them draw back that Mr. Blaine cannot? It is apparent they have no more influence against,

Massachusetts than be. Can either one of the five win back the Prohibition vote? The question can only be answered in the negative. The Prohibitionists did not draw out of the party from hostility to any leader in it, but for

But a few moments longer and she must have perished. The loss is estimated at $2,000; insurance $1,000. The wind blew the fire across the street and set fire to the house of A. J. Lamb, and the buildings, consisting of house, ell and two barns with nearly their entire contents were consumed. Among the contents of the barn was a voke of fine oxen, one of which was burned, and a horse which was also burned. The horse belonged to a man who had come out to look after his own property and had left the horse in Mr. Lamb's barn. The loss of Mr. Lamb is estimated at $1,500; insurance $700. The wind blew a gale and caused the fire to communicate to the farm fences, all pi which were burned flat. A large amoun of wood, the product of last winter's work. was also swept away.

The Lights o' London The sale of tickets for to-night's and N. Friday night's performances of that popular drama, "Lights o' London," has been large and a good audience will probably witness the play. Its power and the interest which it excites are undoubted, while the scenic effects are excellent.

Hanlon's "Fastasma."

The original and world-famous Hunlons will commence an engagement of three nights and Wednesday matinee, next Monday evening, appearing in their magnificent spectacular "Fantasma." The Haplons have no rivals in their | peculiar field, and for inventors of marvellous stage effects of the most puzzling kind, have no equals. They carry two special cars of scenery and effects. Among some of the more important scenes may be mentioned: "The Realistic Cyclone" in which houses are unroofed, windows and doors torn from their fabwindows and doors torn from their fas-tenings and an entire village thrown into chaos. "The Devil's Dormitory," "The Dance of the Spectres," "The Arctic Re-gions," "The Ice King's Defance," "The Realm of Heads," "The Witch's Labora-tory," "The Demon Forest," "The Rabbit Hunt," "The Incantation,"—all are won-ders of stage; mechanism and ingenuity. There are four transformation scenes dur-ing the play, one of them, "Fantasma's Fairyland," alone costing, it is claimed, $5000, and is the most gorgeous and $5000, and is the most gorgeous and costly scene ever presented on any stage locidental to play are introduced tableaux of the renown Greely Expedition, showing their great trials and hardships an their final rescue; also of the "Four Se sons," and the latest popular caricatures of the day, executed by ten handsome ladies and five children.
